Leadership Simulations...

“Better is Different”

APTMetrics has assessed thousands of leaders in Fortune® 100 companies—from first-line managers to C-suite executives.

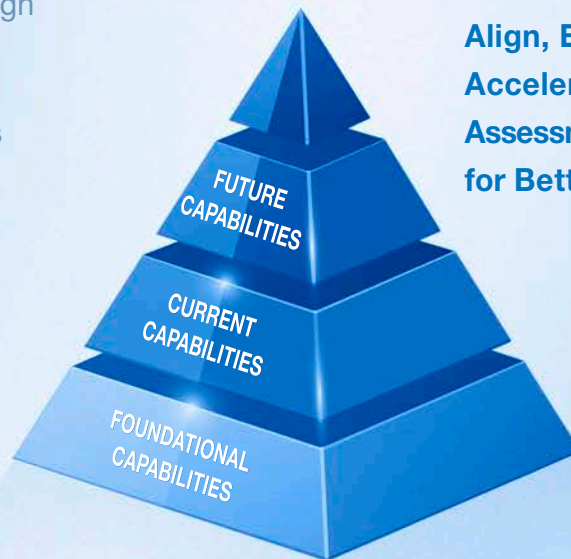

Our approach to creating executive assessment solutions is grounded in research and delivers exceptionally accurate, actionable results through highly engaging and efficient assessments.

Our customized simulation approach leverages rigorous assessments for both leadership development and selection and features:

- Online assessments
- High-fidelity, multi-media simulations
- In-person role plays and case studies

APTMetrics’ assessors are skilled in working with a wide range of commercially available and custom assessments. We work with our clients to define the optimal mix of assessments to address their specific challenges.

Align, Elevate and Accelerate Your Assessment Processes for Better Outcomes

Better Engagement and Objectivity

Intelligent use of technology blends video with other stimuli presented through emails, voicemails, annual and research reports, and many other business- and role-related materials.

A Multi-Method, Multi-Trait Approach for Better Outcomes

APTMetrics' high-fidelity simulations don't just look and feel different—they are more accurate. Leveraging technology and incorporating context as the third dimension of the assessment equation, our simulations set a new standard for realism, objectivity and the range of capabilities measured.

APTMetrics does more than build assessments—we specialize in predicting and improving leadership performance across your organization's pivotal roles.

By configuring the right measurements for your leadership roles, APTMetrics ensures:

- Accurate prediction of leadership performance in the context of 21st-century work environment
- Identification and nurturance of high-performing leaders
- Robust and diverse leadership pipeline
- Strategically driven reporting options
- Highly actionable developmental feedback
- Psychometrically sound assessment process
- Essential enterprise talent intelligence

See the difference that APTMetrics' groundbreaking simulations and assessment processes can make in helping identify, develop and optimally deploy your future leaders.
